Marwan Alfred Kishek

was born in Palestine in the Holy city of Jerusalem. Since his early childhood, he had a great passion for drawing and painting. With the encouragement of his parents and family he started practicing oil painting regularly using his natural talent and love for nature as a guide. However, he decided to keep Art as a hobby and continued his education in Engineering. In 1979 he received his B.Sc. in Civil Engineering from Alexandria University in Egypt, and in 1984 he obtained his Ph.D. Degree in Structural Engineering from the University of Cambridge in England. In the same year, Dr. Kishek joined Birzeit University as an Assistant Professor in the Department of Civil Engineering, then in 1987 he started his own Consultancy in Ramallah, Palestine. He immigrated to Canada with his wife and three children and became Canadian citizens in 1994. Currently, Dr. Kishek works as a Professional Engineer for Desai/Nasr Consulting Engineers and as a Part-time Professor at the University of Windsor.

The Village of Beisan

My great anticipation is realized. The hurdle of the Israeli border is past. I am in Palestine. Our path is right through Beisan. Ah! Beisan. I search the sights for the reflections my heart. The Hebrew sign names it as 'Bet Sheim.' to make it antiseptic for its strictly Israeli residents, the Palestinian villagers have been forcibly evicted to a life of want in refugee camps across the border. Some of the new occupants have skimpy dress and bare bellies but many women wear long black skirts and some have white shawls. Are they trying to look earthy in imitation of the Palestinian peasants whom they replace? Is this a purchase of absolution? I visualize them struggling through the thickness of their guilt.

The bus continues. My eyes are wide open doorways. The land is beautiful. I like nothing they did to it but I can see so easily how well they have irrigated it with US tax dollars. Some of them are my own. Ah the contradictory treacheries of privilege and advanced capitalism. I look with chagrin at those poor palm trees which populated my childhood drawings. I do not like how they trim them. They used to possess such gracious gestures.

Art Students in Palestine

During the spring of 1996, I spent several weeks collaborating with Professor Vera Tamari in teaching art at BirZeit University. Our project provided all of us with a level of aesthetic satisfaction permeated by love of our land.

Student artists:
Fida AbuAllatif
Sana Alawi
Yousef Samara
Rowan Sharaf
Fida Touma

On the first day I told the students about my life and asked them to tell about theirs. One student told about his internment and torture in an Israeli prison. At the end of my stay with them I had occasion to visit another student in a PNA prison taking him some paper mache so that he might make-up his class-work.

Student artist:
Omar Shalhoub

Two weeks before my arrival, there had been a surprise Israeli raid on these university students during the middle of the night. They were pulled out of their beds, then made to stand for over four hours in the cold night air wearing only their bed clothes. Those from Gaza were kidnapped and sent back to Gaza without legal permission to return. This would be called a pogrom if done in Europe against Jews. It would be shocking if done in the US or in Europe; but here the Israeli Jews call it a 'security check' and the mass media seems to implicitly approve through its silence.

These students all get the highest grades in my professor's book. Their visual acumen is as substantial as their character. I was and still am impressed with their accomplishment and that of their teacher Vera Tamari. I look at this work and see its innate value. I take note that its genuine substance looks good even when compared to work that I have seen in the world's most sophisticated museums of modern art.

Those three weeks with them were joyful days of teaching. They are brilliant in memory. They brought a small measure of healing to the forced exile from Palestine. Other teaching days which matched them were those of teaching Asian and Pacific students at the University of Hawaii during one particular semester in 1985. Like my Hawaiian students, our Palestinian students felt that an appropriate ending to our collaboration must be an outing.

KEY:

Capital letters for Arabic strong letters (D,T,...) and double letters for long vowels (aa,oo,...)

Group 1:

● "El-faaDi yekhli lal-malyaan."

The empty gives the way to the full.

● "E'mal ma'roof wermi fil-baHar."

Do good and throw it in the sea.

● "Ya Haafir jouret el-saww ya waaqe' feeha."

This who digs an evil hole will fall into it.

● "Jaarak el-qareeb wala akhook leb-'eed."

Your close neighbor is better than your faraway brother.

● "Ed-daar daar aboona wajo el-ghorob yeT-Hoona."

The house is our father's and the strangers came to kick us out.

● "LaTHTHaalim yowm methel daqq eththowm."

There will be a day for the oppressor when he will be crushed like garlic.

● "Laa tishrab min beer o tirmy feeh Hajar."

Do not drink from a well and throw a stone into it.

● "Ead waHdha maa betSaffeq."

One hand can't clap.

● "Ma beqTa' er-raas illa illy rakkabo."

Nobody will cut a head off except the One who put it on.

● "Doqq el-baab qabil ma todkhol."

Nock on the door before entering.

I. The Meaning of Islam

Islam is derived from the Arabic root "Salema": peace, purity, submission and obedience. In the religious sense, Islam means submission to the will of God and obedience to His law.

Everything and every phenomenon in the world other than man is administered totally by God-made laws, ie. they are obedient to God and submissive to his laws, they are in the State of Islam. Man possesses the qualities of intelligence and choice, thus he is invited to submit to the good will of God and obey His law, ie, become a Muslim.

Submission to the good will of God, together with obedience to His beneficial Law, ie, becoming a Muslim, is the best safeguard for man's peace and harmony.

Islam dates back to the age of Adam and its message has been conveyed to man by God's prophets and messengers, including Abraham, Moses, Jesus and Muhammad.

Islam's message has been restored and enforced in the last stage of the religious evolution by God's last prophet and messenger, Muhammad.

The word Allah in the Arabic language means God, or more accurately, The One and Only Eternal God, Creator of the Universe, Lord of all lords, King of all kings, Most Compassionate, Most Merciful. The word Allah to mean God is also used by Arabic speaking Jews and Christians.

He was assassinated by the Israelis in Beirut on April 10, 1973.

Poem

[Arabic] [English]

وسأروي لك قصّة ..	ودموعٍ وأنينٍ ..
قصّةٌ عاشت بأحلام الأنام ..	وشقاءٍ وحنينٍ ..
قصّةٌ تنبُع من دنيا الخيام ..	***
حاكها الجوعُ ، ووشتها عشيّات الظلام	إنها قصّةٌ تسعّب ضلّوه ،
في بلادي ، وبلادي حَفَنَةٌ من لاجئين ..	ورموه في متاهات السنين
كلُّ عشرين لهم رطلٌ طحينٍ ..	فتحدّى وصمّدًا
ووعودٌ بالفرجِ .. وهدايا وبُقَجْ	وتعرّى واتحدّ
إنها قصّةُ ألام الجماعةُ	ومضى يُشعلُ ما بين الخيام
صمدوا عشرَ سنينَ في مجاعةٍ	ثورةُ العودَةِ في دنيا الظلام

your website is great , but i think that some people had ruined it by putting their silly comments like the one who said that palestinians are cowards .The real cowards are the americans coz they do nothing except following israel's orders by killing people like the palestinians and the iraqees and that shows that they are really cowards!!!!!!no doubt about it!!!!

Palestinian Novelists

Sahar Khalifeh

Writings

Sahar Khalifeh began writing shortly after the 1967 Israeli invasion of Gaza and the West Bank, and published her first novel in 1974. She is considered the foremost Palestinian novelist, widely acclaimed for being the first feminist Palestinian writer, and for her "sensitive, economical and lucid" style. She is the most translated Palestinian author after Mahmoud Darwish. Her fame extends beyond Palestinian and Arab borders, as her translations in many languages attest: She was the only author participating in the French organized Palestinian cultural spring in 1997, whose books sold out immediately.

. 1974: "We are not your Slave Girls Anymore" :

This first novel made an impact because of its advocacy of women's rights, and was turned into radio and TV series in 1977.

. 1975: " Wild Thorns" : (الصبار)

This is the book that made Khalifeh famous and gave her literary recognition on an international scale. It is available in a number of languages, among them:

-English: translated by Al Saqi Books, London in 1984, by The Olive Tree in 1988, and in the US by PROTA in 1985. - Spanish: as "Cactus", by Txalaparta, Madrid, 1994.

The book was also translated into French in 1978 by Gallimard, into Hebrew in 1978 by Galileo, into Dutch in 1980 by Unieboek, into Malay in 1992 by Dewan Bahasa, and into Italian in 1996.

. 1980: " The Sunflower" : (عباد الشمس)

Translated into Hebrew by Mifras in 1982, into Russian by Progress Press in Moscow in 1982, into French in 1984, and into Dutch in 1985 by Unieboek.

. 1986: "Memoirs of an Unrealistic Woman" : (مذكرات امرأة غير واقعية)

This novel depicts the life of a woman trapped in a loveless marriage, and intertwines feminist consciousness with political awareness.

Translated into Italian in 1989, into Dutch by De Geus in 1991.

Zakaria Mohammed

Zakaria Mohammed started sculpting five years ago, without any formal training. His sculptures appear to have been found in archeological excavations: Their strong primitive style recalls the small propitiatory statues used in the early antiquity period in the Fertile Crescent. The sculptures' forbidding aspect, and tortured style, add to their power of expression. They reflect the dominant themes of Mohammed's literary works: Canaanite folklore ghouls and demons, fertility rites, etc..

The sculptures are executed in three media principally: Jerusalem stone (pink and white), wood, and insulating material. Sculptures are small to medium in size, the largest are only 65cm. high. A number of small watercolors and prints were exhibited. For biographical information on Z. Mohammed, please consult the Poets' section

Virtual Exhibition of Palestinian Tiles

On this page and the pages to follow, representative samples of traditional floor tile patterns are presented.

This work is taken from Riwaq's Revival of the Use of Traditional Floor Tiles project. The objective of this project is twofold. On the one hand it aims at artistically documenting the numerous tile designs that were once predominant in Palestine. On the other hand it aims at exploring the feasibility of reproducing these tiles. These tiles, such as the ones which form the background to this page and which were extensively used, are sadly no longer produced.

For decades, Palestinians, mainly in the cities, used to adorn the exterior as well as the interiors of their buildings. This grand ornamentation was not only beautiful but also prestigious. Craftsman used a wide variety of decorated (carved) columns, arches, lintels, window and door frames. Coloured floor tiles had a complimentary effect. In many cases, the floor of each room of a building had its own unique pattern.

RIWAQ wishes to express its gratitude to the following individuals who participated in the documentation of the old floor tile patterns:

Hussam Naser (Project Coordinator); Lena Sobh (Tracer); Solana Nimats (Painter); Lama Shamia, Ghada Khalaf and Du'a Wadi (Pattern Tracers - Ramallah Area); and Salaam Rihan, Sana' Birawi and Hania Masoud (Pattern Tracers - Nablus Area). RIWAQ would also like to thank Groupe Development for its partial sponsorship of this project.

The Arabic music is built on a very advanced musical theory . The octave is divided in more than twelve tone steps . And these steps have different sizes . A small number of tones that forms some kind of a music scale are selected from these twelve tones. The complicated melody corresponds to a equally developed and advanced rhythm theory . There are over 100 carefully chosen rythmical forms , some kind of rythmical scales. The most important type of composition is called nawba or wasla and they can be found in two different traditions, the Eastern and the Western . The Eastern can mostly be found in Egypt and in Syria and it contents eight movements (phrases) that are built on a particular scale form and on a special pattern of rythmical forms . The first section of the Eastern form of nawba is a improvised Vocal solo , qasida, it is built on the classical Arabic lyrics with the same name . The Presentation is usually done with an ensemble , takht . The Western nawba can mostly be found in Maroc , Algeria and Tunisia . It is a direct continuation of the Muslim tradition in Spain from 700-1400 AC. The classical impious nawba of Maroc is a succession of songs that can last for several hours. The Arabic folklore music is basically in vocal . The oldest level of the folklore is the Bedouin music, where the lyrics and the music is integrated , and the purely instrumental music is rare among the Bedouins.

Some of the most important Arabic musical instruments are : Ud , qanun , nay , darabakka or tabla , rababa , tar , and tbilat . Many European instruments has been developed from the Arabic instruments , and the Arabic music have influenced the European music very much , specially in Spain (Andalusia) and in the Balkan countries .

Rim About Rim Banna's Songs

home

Rim Banna's songs most of which she herself composes, demonstrates a special musical and singing style, which is her very own.

Rim's songs are inspired by the Palestinian people's conscience and sentiments, from their culture, their history and their folklore. She brings it forth from the desert rhythm in the south, from the long lived song of the sea that spread all over the Palestinian sea shore, from the inspiration of the charming nature and its colors from the meadows and plains, from the returning echo that roams between mountains and valleys, from the sounds of The Ancient Canaanite Hymns, which accompanied streams of sweet waters in its swing among rocks and over small white stones, from the chirping of the sparrows and the garden nightingales, who never emigrate, such as the blessed olive tree, the resisting cactus on the borders of the orchards, and the holy grape tree that spread all over the hills of the Palestinian land.

Rim Banna also presents the modern Palestinian Arabic song, which has been received with enthusiasm from the Arab world and the International community. Her songs are categorized as a post modern and highly appreciated Arabic song that promises a bright future for the Arabic song in The Arab World and at the international level. This relates to the song, its tunes and music, and performance.

The music & The Tunes flourish from the soul of the poem and its streams and from the feeling of the word's rhythm, then comes the interweaving of the words and the tune, which produce the beautiful songs, which carry us to the skies of Palestine and from there to the whole Universe. The songs that express the suffering of the Palestinian people, their dreams and visions, their hopes, joys and sorrow.

Rim Banna and Leonid Alexeienko share the construction of the final theme of their lines and their creative musical and singing arrangement which belong exclusively to them.

The poems are written by the famous Palestinian Poets: Mahmoud Darwish, Tawfik Zayyad, Samih El-Qasem, Zuhaira Sabbagh and others, as well as songs written by Rim Banna herself.

The Children's Songs

Rim Banna has also produced a collection of CHILDREN'S songs for which she herself wrote the words and the tunes. These songs have been warmly applauded by children in Children's Festivals like "Nuwar Nisan Festival" (April's Blossoms Festival) in Ramallah, "Bethlehem Summer Festival" in Bethlehem, "Christmas Festivals", & "Ramadan Festivals" (Lesser Bairam) in different Palestinian towns and villages, "Joy and Fun Festival" in Bethlehem and Jerusalem, "The Jericho Winter Festival" in Jericho, "The Sons Of The Martyrs Festival" in Gaza. "The International Day of the Child Festival" in
